NEW ENGLAND MUTUAL

Life Insurance

COMPANY!

OF BOSTON.

INCORPORATED, 1835. ASSETS, $9,000,000.

The only Company on the Pacific Coast governed by the MASSACHUSETTS NON-FORFEITURE LAW.

That there is absolutely no forfeiture in this Company these examples, furnish sufficient proof:

A. C. E. Miller, of Portland, Oregon, insured under Policy No. 13,554, for $5,000, died over six months after the premium was due and unpaid. The $5,000 was promptly paid the widow, less the unpaid premium.

J. W. Jones, of Colusa, Cal., insured under Policy No. 38,016, for $10,000, died over four months after the premium was due and unpaid. The $10,000 was promptly paid the widow, less the unpaid premium.

Is it not an object for you to insure in a Company where your policy is protected by such a wise and equitable law?

☞ This Company is not restricted to investing its funds in Massachusetts. The funds are invested in the best securities, where the largest interest is obtainable. Thus it has been enabled to return as dividends to the policy holders, in cash, during the last four years, $2,466,109 60. Dividends payable annually in cash.

EQUITABLE

Life Assurance Company.

OF THE UNITED STATES.

Gross Assets, Jan. 1st, 1870,

$10,510,824!

No. of Policies Issued in 1869, 13,072.

AMOUNT INSURED IN 1869, $50,492,941.

Insures at as LOW RATES as are consistent with safety to the Company and the assured.

The Equitable Life Assurance Society of the United States was organized in 1859, with assets amounting to $120,772, and issued in that year 277 policies. In 1869, the number of policies issued was 13,073; amount insured, $50,592,941; total assets Jan. 1st, 1870, $10,510,824.

The Equitable has outstripped all other Companies in the amount of business transacted, and never had but one case of litigation, and in that case it was no fault of the Company, but because of different parties claiming the amount the policy called for.

THE BEAUTIFUL LAND.

There's a beautiful land by the spoiler untrod,
Unclouded by sorrow or care;
It is lighted alone by the presence of God,
Whose throne and temple are there;
Its ehrysfaline streams with a murmurous flow
Meander through valleys of green,
And its mountains of jasper are bright in the glow
Of a splendor no mortal hath seen.

And throngs of glad singers with jubilant breath
Make the air with their melodies rife,
And one known on earth as the Angel of Death
Shines here as the Angel of Life!
An infinite tenderness beams from his eyes,
On his brow is a heavenly calm,
And his voice, as it thrills through the depths of the skies,
Is as sweet as a seraphim's psalm.

Through the musical groves of that beautiful land
Walk the souls that were faithful in this,
And their pure white foreheads by zephyrs are fanned,
That evermore murmur of bliss;
They taste the rich fruitage that hangs from the trees
And breathe the sweet odor of flowers,
More fragrant than ever was kissed by the breeze
In Araby's loveliest bowers.

Old prophets, whose words were a spirit of flame
Blazing out o'er the darkness of time,
And martyrs, whose courage no torture could tame,
Nor turn from their purpose sublime;
And saints and confessors, a numberless throng,
Who were loyal to truth and to right,
And left, as they walked through the darkness of wrong,
Their footprints encircled with light.

And the dear little children who went to their rest
Ere their lives had been sullied by sin,
While the Angel of Morning still tarried, a guest,
The spirit's pure temple within—
All are there, all are there—in the beautiful land,
The land by the spoiler untrod,
And their radiant foreheads by breezes are fanned
That blow from the garden of God.

My soul hath looked in through the gateway of dreams,
On the city all paved with pure gold,
And heard the sweet flow of its murmuring streams,
As through the green valleys they rolled.
And though it still waits on this desolate strand,
A pilgrim and stranger on earth,
Yet it knew, in that glimpse of the beautiful land,
That it gazed on the place of its birth.

THE CAMEL ACCLIMATIZED IN NEVADA.—The Territorial Enterprise says: On a ranch on the Carson river eight miles below the mouth of Six-mile Cañon, and about seventeen miles east of the city, is to be seen a herd of twenty-six camels, all but two of which were born and raised in this State. But Two of the old herd of nine or ten that were brought here some years ago are now living. It would seem that the original lot fell into the hands of Mexicans, who treated them very badly, overloading and abusing them. The men who now have them are Frenchmen, and men, it seems, who had formerly some experience with camels in Europe. They find no difficulty in rearing them, and can now show twenty-four fine, healthy animals, all of Washoe growth. The camel may now be said to be thoroughly acclimated in this State. The owners of the herd find it no more difficult to breed and rear them than would be experienced with the same number of goats or donkeys. The ranch upon which they are kept is sandy and sterile in the extreme, yet the animals feast and grow fat on such prickly shrubs and bitter weeds as no other animal would touch. When left to themselves, their great delight, after filling themselves with the coarse herbage of the desert, is to lie and roll in the hot sand. They are used in packing salt to the mills on the river from the marshes lying in the deserts, some sixty miles to the eastward. Some of these animals easily carry 1,100 pounds.

INTERESTING DISCOVERY.—By many it has been held as a theory that the Yuma Desert was once an ocean bed. At intervals pools of salt water have stood for a while in the midst of the surrounding waste of sand, disappearing only to rise again in the same or other localities. A short time since, one of these saline lakes disappeared, and a party of Indians reported the discovery of a "big ship," left by the receding waters. A party of Americans at once proceeded to the spot, and found imbedded in the sands the wreck of a large vessel. Nearly one-third of the fore part of the ship or barque is plainly visible. The stump of the bowsprit remains, and portions of the timbers of teak are perfect. The wreck is located forty miles north of the San Bernardino and Fort Yuma road, and thirty miles west of Los Palmos, a well known watering place on the desert. The road across the desert has been traveled for more than one hundred years. The history of the ill-fated vessel can of course never be known; but the discovery of its decaying timbers in the midst of what has long been a desert, will furnish savants food for discussion, and may perhaps furnish important aid in the elucidation of questions of science.—Los Angeles News.

OUTRAGES EXTRAORDINARY.—A. O. Smoot communicates to the Evening News U. T., the account of the visitation of a Company of U. S. troops to the town of Provo, where they behaved themselves in the most shameful and outrageous manner. The troops were from Camp Rawlins, and were armed with needle guns and revolvers: "They broke into the residence of Alderman Wm. Miller, firing several shots into his bedroom, smashed in doors and windows, and took him prisoner and held him about an hour. Thence passing up centre street, they stove in the doors and windows of the Coöperative Boot and Shoe Shop, and tore down the signs and stoned the doors of the Coöperative Store. They next surrounded the new residence of Councillor A. F. McDonald, who was from home, and completely demolished every outside door and window on the first floor, and sacked the house, scattering the contents over the yards and sidewalk. Alderman E. F. Sheets' residence shared nearly the same fate. Their progress was here partially interrupted; they, however, proceeded to the meeting house, broke in the shutter of one window and attempted to fire the building."

FULL returns of the late Judicial election in Tennessee serve to show what a political difference it makes to give the elective franchise to all the people instead of a party. The Conservative ticket received 109,654 votes, and the Radical ticket 13,500. At the election for Supreme Judges, in May, 1869 (when so many of the people were disfranchised), the Radical vote was 45,000, and the Conservative vote 14,500. At the election held this Summer the vote was by no means full, as it was only for judicial officers.—Stockton Republican.

THE SECRET SORROW.

"Well, Amy, your step-mother will be here to-day, I believe; so I have just run over to condole with you, and see if everything is in order to receive the bride," said a blue-eyed romp of a girl, as she ran into the room where Amy Dunlap was reading.

"Laura, I have told you that her arrival or non-arrival is a matter of indifference to me. So that she does not interfere with my books and always keeps her advice to herself, I shall not care anything about her," and the girl, a strange dreamy looking creature, with no pretentions to beauty, and almost a sloven in attire, rose to her feet from out a deep arm chair.

"Amy Dunlap! I am surprised at you," said Laura impulsively. "Do you mean to say that your feelings are not wounded, after your father has been a widower ever since your birth, you do not pretend to resent his now bringing you a step-mother, and one perhaps you will dislike?"

"I cannot dislike her before I have seen her. I do not care anything about her. My father told me several months ago of his intended marriage, and said he would not ask me to the wedding, as they were to be married in church, and come home immediately. They will be here this morning. Now do not ask me another question, Laura, but wait and see how you like her. I shall treat her with respect. I know nothing of a mother's care and love, and certainly do not expect any from her. She is as old as father, and I hope she will make him happy. As for myself I never expect any happiness to fall to the lot of a poor plain little body such as I am. My books, birds and flowers are all I need, excepting of course the society of my teasing friend," said she, laying her hand on Laura's shoulder affectionately.

Laura drew a long breath, and then said: "If I only knew what has changed you so, Amy, since your last visit to New York. You have lost all interest in everything. It is strange that a young girl will make a recluse of herself. You care nothing for amusements, nothing for dress, and you pass day after day a gloomy bookworm, with wealth and everything to make you happy and cheerful."

A gloomy shadow seemed to cloud the girl's face at this outburst from Laura, but she made no reply, only to consult the clock, saying:

"It is time for the arrival of the train, and I suppose in a few minutes my father will be here."

A carriage drove up before the door as she spoke, and Laura, with a girl's curiosity, peeped out to see Mr. Dunlap alight and hand out a tall queenly looking lady in the prime of life, then escaped by the side entrance into her own home in the adjoining house, leaving Amy standing in the middle of the room, with a face whose pallor did not indicate the indifference she had just expressed.

The servants were all in the hall to welcome the stranger, and after a kind word to each, Mr. Dunlap ushered his wife into the library, where Amy was standing.

"My dear, this is our little daughter of whom I have told you so much; and daughter, this is your mother. I hope you will be happy together."

Amy offered her hand, but the words of greeting died on her lips as her step-mother took her affectionately in her arms saying: "I was prepared to see a little girl, but am happy to see that the little girl is a young lady."

Amy looked up into the frank, pleasant face of the lady, and her kindly smile melted all her fear, as she saw the spirit of love beaming in her eyes.

Where have I seen her before thought Amy, as the next day they sat together in the library. Her eyes have a strangely familiar look—where have I seen her.

Days and weeks passed on. Amy did not in any way change her mode of living, and her step-mother often tried affectionately to urge her to be more cheerful; but found all her efforts unavailing. She was always polite and attentive, but a gloomy shadow always seemed to obscure her face, and she moved as in a dream.

Mrs. Dunlap was a woman of rare good sense: She truly loved her step-daughter, and would have given much to have seen her different; yet she contented herself with observing her closely, and waiting for time to reveal the cause of her hidden sorrow, for she felt assured she had some real cause for grief unknown to her father or the gay Laura, who had fallen in love with the long dreaded step-mother, and told her that Amy had always been fonder of books than society, yet, for the past two years had seemed gloomy and sad. She knew no reason for it. Mrs. Dunlap saw that there was no way to act but to win her love, and then hoped that she could in some way cheer her. Mr. Dunlap was engrossed in business cares, and rarely gave a thought to the 'girl's fancies,' as he termed Amy's strange ways.

A year passed and the anxious mother watched and waited in vain. No change in Amy, only a still greater distaste of society; and at times her pale, gloomy face seemed so sorrowful that Mrs. Dunlap could hardly refrain from taking her in her arms and praying her with tears to confide her sorrow to her. Yet such a step she feared would be premature. At length she proposed to Mr. Dunlap that they should take Amy to New York for the Winter, hoping that the change would benefit her. He at once assented, and made the necessary arrangements.

"Amy passed a few weeks there two winters ago, you know," said he, "at Mrs. Gray's, her mother's sister. She was homesick and came back long before I intended her to, but perhaps she will be better contented with you. Her aunt is now in Europe, but you have so many friends in New York, she will not miss her much."

Mr. Dunlap never noticed how pale and sad Amy was, or how indifferent to all that passed around her.

Very soon they were comfortably established in New York for the Winter, in a handsome house, as Mr. Dunlap declared that there was no real comfort in a boarding-house.

A few days after, Amy came in from a walk that her mother had indued her to take, looking so pale and haggard that her father was alarmed.

"Why, Amy, what is wrong?"

But without replying she sank senseless at his feet. Mr. Dunlap called for his wife, and conveyed the poor little shadow to her room. He was terribly frightened, but in a few minutes she opened her eyes and said:

"Do not be so much alarmed, father, my walk was too fatiguing. I am much better now."

The next day she did not attempt to rise, but lay with her great black eyes fixed upon the wall, motionless, speechless, and a hopeless expression on her pale face that nearly broke the kind heart of Mrs. Dunlap.

"Amy," said Mrs. Dunlap, "it is over a year now that I have tried all in my power to fill your dead mother's place, and be to you what she would have been could she have lived. If she were sitting here in my place could you not tell her, or me as her representative, what dreadful troubles afflict you, dear child? I see your heart is breaking; let me help you bear the sorrow that is killing you."

"Mother, I do love you as well as if you were indeed my own mother—my heart is breaking."

"Amy, dear child, tell your grief to me; your mind will be relieved in having some one to talk your grief to."

"I will tell you, for you have earned the right to know by your care and watchful kindness; but promise me not to tell father; he would never forgive me."

"I promise," said her mother.

"In slow and trembling accents Amy said: "Two winters ago, as you know, I was in this city for a few weeks visiting Aunt Gray. Father was going on a long journey that might detain him some months, so, being unwilling to leave me alone, he took me to aunt's on his way."

Here she paused, but commenced again seeming to regain courage:

"I saw a great deal of gay company, and enjoyed all in my quiet way. I was introduced to a young gentleman—Herbert Evelyn. He was different in every respect from myself, gay, cheerful and full of wit, and I gave to him my whole heart. I suppose, being so cheerful, first made me love him, for I have always been inclined to be gloomy, and am, as you know, exceedingly retiring in my disposition. Some way my plain face and unattractive ways pleased him, and he told me he loved me, urging me to name an early day for our marriage. He was a lieutenant in the navy, and his ship was ready, only waiting orders, to sail for China. I could not do so; my father was away, and I told him he must consult him. But he declared he must leave his wife behind him, and so prevailed upon me that I stole out to a church one morning, and we were married. He left me at the church door to go to his ship, and said in the evening he would come, and then we would tell aunt. I waited for him—he did not come, and from that day to this I have never heard a word from him. I do not know what to think about it. I did not even know the name of his ship, for I never asked him. I waited a week, and then begged so piteously to go home, that aunt at last reluctantly let me go. Here is my wedding ring, and here the marriage certificate. I cannot think he deserted me, for why did he marry me at all."

"He said, 'we will get Aunt Gray to keep your father from being very angry, and see that you keep up your spirits until I come home.'"

"I knew father, although so indulgent, would be angry for my hasty marriage. Yesterday, mother, I saw Herbert; he was on the opposite side of the street, and came home, I know not how."

Mrs. Dunlap's face wore an astonished and painful expression.

"Have you a picture of him, my love?" she said.

Amy handed her a small case, and Mrs. Dunlap exclaimed:

"It is as I thought from the first of your story—Herbert Evelyn was my son."

"Your son? Then that is the look in your eyes that made me wonder where I had seen you before. Tell me where he is and what his strange conduct means, or I shall lose my reason."

"My child, if you yesterday saw Herbert, he has been restored from a long and weary voyage; I believed him dead; I knew nothing of your marriage; my home as you know, was in Brooklyn. Herbert wrote me on the day he sailed that he was ordered out, and bade me good bye, as he could not come over, and would write me a long letter, as he had a secret to confide to me."

"The ship was lost, and 'all on board perished,' so the papers said. I mourned for my brave boy, cut off so suddenly in his bright, early manhood, as only a mother can mourn. Your father urged me to give up my lonely home, now desolate, its life and light was gone forever, and we were married."

"A faint hope has cheered me that he might one day come. I know it has seemed impropable, yet it has always been there."

"Where did you see him dear child? for now indeed you are mine."

"I do not remember the street, but oh, I know it was Herbert."

At this moment Mr. Dunlap came in, his face plainly showing good tidings.

"My dear, a ship arrived yesterday, and brought—"

"I know, I know!" cried the now excited mother—"bringing my son."

"You have indeed guessed my good news. But look at Amy, she is fainting again."

Joy seldom kills, and Amy was soon better in listening to Herbert's story.

"When I left you so strangely I went on board, thinking to return in a few hours, but found all preparations made for sailing, so I wrote you a note bidding you a sorrowful goodbye, and then wrote to mother telling her of our hasty marriage, and urging her to tell your father, as I knew they were old friends."

"That letter," replied Mrs. Dunlap, "I never received, nor Amy your note. I saw only a brief notice in the papers of the loss of the ship, and all my inquiries were answered that no other news had been received. To-day, for the first time, I learned the secret of the grief that has well nigh destroyed poor Amy."

"But Herbert," said Mr. Dunlap, "what induced you to be married so secretly, when you knew you were to be ordered away at any moment?"

"I do not know," said Herbert, looking fondly at Amy; "I wanted to be sure of Amy before I sailed, so could not wait to ask your consent, sir."

"Well, mother," said Mr. Dunlap, "had we not better all go home and have another wedding? Amy has certainly improved wonderfully in the last few hours."

So we leave them with happiness and prosperity, and love for one another.

Arrival at Boston of the Tiny Boat "City of Ragusa."

[From the Boston Herald, Sept. 9th.]

Ninety days ago a tiny boat, less than twenty feet in length, and carrying two men and a dog, left Liverpool, England, with the avowed purpose of crossing the Atlantic to New York. The bold and hazardous project was the subject of much amazement at the time, and about five o'clock yesterday afternoon the tiny craft was signaled approaching our harbor. At six o'clock the Collector's tug started down the harbor and met the venturesome mariners at about 8 o'clock, opposite the lower light, and towed them to this city. The boat which had thus accomplished a voyage so hazardous and so altogether novel is named the "City of Ragusa," is twenty feet in length over all, six feet beam, and two feet eight inches in depth, drawing two feet of water; she is yawl-rigged, and spreads seventy yards of canvas; is fitted up with a two-bladed steam propeller, worked by hand; and her hull is wood, the boards only being one-half inch in thickness. In this miniature ship are all the arrangements for cooking, etc., and the capacity for carrying provisions and water sufficient for the voyage which has just been successfully terminated.

The crew consists of two men, John Chas. Berkeley, the commander, and Nicholas Primoraz. These are the two men, who, actuated as the former says by a "mere whim," were induced to make this attempt which few could regard as anything but fool-hardiness, after seeing the craft in which they launched their destinies and hung their lives by a mere thread. The former has followed the sea from boyhood and has passed an eventful life. He saved two lives off the coast of Kent on the 8th of September, 1858, for which he was awarded a medal by the British Humane Society. He is an Irishman and has a home in Dublin. His companion is an Austrian. On Thursday, June 2d, the daring spirits launched their frail bark, and, accompanied only by a dog, left Liverpool. In ten days they put into Queenstown, where they were obliged to remain four days in order to have some calking done on their boat, which was leaking, and left there on the 16th, having on board one ton of ballast and five hundred weight of coal. They took the northern route, the same as that taken by the Cambria, the prevailing winds being westerly, and for the first thirty-five days they suffered a great deal, being kept wet through continually. They were also unable to cook in the first part of the voyage, and were compelled to eat their meat raw, which added to their discomfort and helped to discourage them. After being eighteen days out, they became short of firewood with no means of getting a supply. At this time they very luckily picked up a barrel containg about four gallons of tar, which was a perfect god-send, they using the tar upon the decks and the barrel for fuel. On the 4th of July they celebrated "the day of the Great Republic," drinking the health of President Grant in some prime Irish whisky, with which they were supplied. On the evening of that day there was a heavy gale, through which, however, they rode safely. On the 28th of August they lost one of their crew, the dog, which died from scurvy. They had a good deal of heavy weather, but the little bark bore herself nobly, and the men expressed surprise that she rode the heavy gales so staunchly. She was leaking all the way, and the pumps, of which they have two, were kept at work constantly. In the severe gale of last Saturday, they experienced the hardest time of the voyage, but suffered no disaster save the carrying away of the jigger boom. The largest number of miles made in one day was 123, which was made in the first part of the voyage, and the smallest was 11 miles. The average speed was 4 nots per hour. A number of vessels were spoken on the voyage, among which was the bark Radcliff, on June 28th, bound for Quebec; the ship Maxwell, August 9th, and the homeward bound steamer Russia, August 24th. From the first two of these they took in supplies of provisions and water. Two whales were very neighborly off Cape Clear, coming near enough to be touched with the hand, and giving the voyagers some alarm lest they should upset their frail ship. One of "Mother Cary's Chickens" attended them from the time they left Queenstown till they passed George's Bank. The men say they had the most perfect confidence in the success of their enterprise, and in the roughest gale could go to sleep with the greatest composure. Only the lateness of the season prevents them from returning home as they came. Their original intention was to go direct to New York, but they concluded to put into this port, and will go from here to the former place, and will remain on this side another summer. They were towed to Long Wharf by the tug, and there can be seen this the smallest of all crafts that ever traversed the broad Atlantic.

ENOUGH OF RADICALISM.—A Radical organ says the country has had enough of Democracy. In reply to this the Louisville Journal says that when it is shown a body of Democratic militia as brutal and cowardly as those organized by Brownlow, of Tennessee, and Holden of North Carolina; when it is shown the overthrow of all law except arbitrary martial law by Democratic authority equal in recklessness and atrocity to the Radical reign of terror in Arkansas and Texas; when it is shown Radicals rotting in Democratic prisons for opinion's sake, as Democrats have rotted in Radical prisons all over the South and wherever Radicalism has had its way, then it will admit that the country has had enough of Democracy. The point is well taken. The people have had enough of Radicalism.

THE St. Louis Republican gives the origin of Mr. Clements' nom de plume of "Mark Twain" thus: Clements used to write up river items and occasional squibs for the Republican, and having written a humorous sketch of an old river pilot, he inquired of John Morris, now steward of the Belle Memphis, what name he should sign to it. One of the deck hands, at the time happening to be heaving the lead, hallowed out "Mark Twain," meaning the depth of the water, when Clements exclaimed "That's it, Mark Twain's my name." This sketch with his new name, "Mark Twain," at the bottom of it, found a place in the river department of the Republican. It proved to be a decided hit, and was extensively copied by Western journals.

Yolo Democrat.

County Official Paper.

WOODLAND, CAL.:

Saturday, October 8th, 1870.

"STUMPING."—Hon. J. W. Coffroth is stumping Nevada for the Democratic nominees.

DEATH OF A LEGISLATOR.—Hon. R. B. Martin, a member of the last Assembly from Shasta county, died at Little Shasta, on the 16th inst.

REDUCTION OF FREIGHTS.—A dispatch from New York says that freights overland to California have been reduced ten to thirty per cent.

SUCCESSFUL FESTIVAL.—The French Festival at San Francisco closed on the 1st inst. by a grand raffle. The total receipts amounted to $70,000.

SUPERVISOR ELECTED.—J. M. Steel, Democratic candidate for Supervisor for the First District of Colusa county, was elected by a majority of forty votes.

POPULATION OF SOLANO COUNTY.—Vallejo has a population of 6,439. It is estimated by the census enumerators that the population of the county will reach 17,000.

TOO MUCH WHEAT.—Wheat is arriving at Vallejo faster than ships can bear it away, so says the Chronicle. Sixteen ships have been dispatched from that port this season.

THE KEARSARGE.—The U. S. steamer Kearsarge, notable as the vessel that sunk the Alabama, off Cherbourg, France, during the "late unpleasantness," is lying at anchor at Mare Island.

ABOUT STAMPS.—From this time forward stamps are not required by law upon any promissory note under $100; nor on receipted bills for any amount. All bank checks, of whatever denomination, require stamps as heretofore.

CONFLAGRATIONS.—A fire occurred at Eureka, Humboldt county, on the 25th ult., doing damage to the amount of $20,000. Another at Ukiah, Mendocino county, destroyed $22,000 worth of property. On the overland railroad about a mile of snow sheds were also destroyed last week.

RANK OF CITIES.—The great cities of the United States, those having over 100,000 population, ranks thus: 1, New York; 2, Philadelphia; 3, Brooklyn; 4, St. Louis; 5, Chicago; 6, Cinnati; 7, Boston; 8, Baltimore; 9, New Orleans; 10, Pittsburg; 11, San Francisco; 12, Buffalo; 13, Washington.

DIAMOND DIGGINGS.—The value of diamonds, discovered in the Cape Colony, during the month of June of the present year, is estimated, according to advices last received, at five hundred thousand dollars. The most of them have been shipped to London, many of them being large and of the finest water.

THE PROPER COURSE.—At the meeting of the Board of Regents of the University held recently, a resolution was adopted authorizing the admission of young women to the University upon the same terms as young men. If they are equally advanced and otherwise competent and eligible, we see no reason why females should not be admitted to the University on an equal footing with males.

EXPENSIVE NEWS.—The New York Tribune appears to be eclipsing all the journals in the world in the extent and dispatch of its European war news. It telegraphs everything from its correspondents at Rome, Berlin, Munich, St. Petersburg, Vienna, Tours, or wherever else they may be and have news to send. These letters, it is said, cost for cable tariff $1,500 to $4,000 each, and there is at least one a day.

NO MORE INCOME TAX.—Judge Strong, of the United Circuit Court for Pennsylvania, has decided, in a case recently before him, that while Congress has the right to make laws, it has no judicial power bestowed upon it to "construe" laws, and, inasmuch as it did not re-enact the Income Law, the law expired by its own limitation, and in consequence the collection of tax is unauthorized and must be refunded.

SHIPMENT OF GRAIN IN BULK.—It is said that Isaac Friedlander, of San Francisco, has purchased the Vallejo elevator, and intends hereafter to ship grain in bulk therefrom on his own account. We are pleased to see that so practical and thorough a man as Friedlander is to come in possession of the elevator at Vallejo, and we predict that another season will see at least another, of greater capacity than the present elevator, erected at Vallejo.

CHINESE IN SAN FRANCISCO.—An eastern paper says that in San Francisco there are 240 Chinese merchants, 809 butchers, 964 laundrymen, 389 vegetable peddlers, 284 fishermen, 57 carpenters, 15 photographers, 16 doctors, 900 laborers, 2,300 cigar makers, 200 mill hands, 2,480 men-chamber-maids, and 900 sundry occupations—making just 9,554 in all. The probability is that the statistician overlooked certain other trades not worth mentioning here, but well known to the citizens of San Francisco. The 2,480 men-chamber-maids penetrate the sacred privacy of the bed-rooms of the mothers and daughters of the families they serve, while the 964 laundrymen come next in their intimacies with those same refined and delicately sensative families. Altogether the 3,444 displace just that many white women, which fact is a sufficient commentary upon the subject, and renders all farther remarks unnecessary.

A DOG IN THE MANGER.

According to the Marysville Appeal, the owners of land subject to overflow on the east side of the Sacramento river are apprehensive that the reclamation of the tule lands embraced in Swamp Land District No. 108 by the Sacramento Valley Reclamation Company on the west side of the river, situated in Yolo and Colusa counties, will inure to the injury of said east-side inhabitants in Sutter county, by increased overflow consequent upon shutting out the water from this side. There may and may not be ground for these fears. Possibly leveeing one side of a stream liable to overflow may increase the extent of the overflow on the opposide; but it by no means follows as a necessary consequence, though it may at first thought so appear. It has long since been demonstrated that where a stream is leveed on both sides to prevent overflow, the rise is not increased by so confining the water to the channel; but, the velocity of the current is thereby increased, so that double, treble, or perhaps even a greater percentage of water flows in the river proper, even though its depth (or hight) may not be materially increased, in the same length of time, that did before the levees were constructed. Such has been the effect on the Mississippi and other rivers in the East and South. And may not leveeing one side have the same effect to a proportionate extent? At any rate, in view of the above facts, with which many of our readers must be familiar, we set it down as premature to arrive at any such conclusion as that the residents on the east side will suffer injury by the proposed reclamation on the west side of the Sacramento river. But even if the complaint referred to be not entirely groundless, must Yolo and Colusa be prevented from making so important an improvement as that proposed because Sutter does not do the same, or wish them to? The law was made as comprehensive as the circumstances seemed to require, and thus far its provisions have been strictly complied with by this Company so far as we are aware. Then why throw obstacles in the way of so great and beneficial an undertaking? The Company will go on and in good faith test their plan for reclaiming the thousands of acres of almost entirely valuless swamp lands, which cannot be done without great expenditures of money, and if successful it is not alone the Company who will be benefitted, but the entire people. And we would suppose other owners of overflowed lands would prefer that an effort should be made by other parties than themselves in that direction, who would bear all the expenses and run all the risk; they, if the attempt prove successful, could share the benefit of the experience of those who, more enterprising than themselves, gave their time and expended their money in the experiment. It is to be hoped that no serious obstacles will be interposed to the immediate prosecution and rapid completion of this great work. Even if it should for a single season somewhat increase the overflow on the opposite side of the river, it would be of inestimable value, if successful, as showing what could be done there also. And it seems to us that complaints come with a bad grace from those who will derive so much benefit in Sutter county (if not immediately in dollars, in experience,) by the superior enterprise of Yolo and Colusa.

THE FRENCH REPUBLIC.—The Republic of France seems to be organizing with a coolness and deliberation unprecedented in all the previous attempts of that nation in that direction. In the days of Robespierre—days of terror and blood—there were so few cool heads that the voice of reason could obtain no hearing. But even then there were men who like Champfort, could see things as they really existed. When Champfort first saw placed on the walls the motto "Fraternity or Death," he quietly observed, "That means in reality, 'Be my brother or I will kill you.'" On the other hand, an immense majority were completely blinded and captivated by the epigrammatical brilliancy of orators whose utterances were but the echoes of a false wisdom eulogizing godless crime. The wild, insane populace, crowding in the streets and yelling blasphemously the sacred name of Liberty, had never dreamed of the adage older than themselves, that "A farthing candle is better for practical purposes than the light of the stars." Now, however, there appears to be a greater unanimity among both the people and their leaders in carrying out and putting together the machinery of a real Republic than was ever before observed in that mercurial nation. They go to work with something resembling the cold, stern wisdom that marked the deliberations of our own forefathers when they cut loose from Great Britain. May they succeed as well and with less suffering than did our venerated sages. Vive la Republique.

AN ARMY IN PRAYER.—Says an exchange, "the telegraph informs us that the army assembled at St. Manier and Strasbourg, organized into immense congregations last Sunday, and were earnestly exhorted by their chaplains, both Catholic and Protestant, and the whole army then offered thanks for their victory. The Protestant rites were on one side and Catholics on another. The ceremonies attracted thousands of the citizens of Strasbourg, and even many outside of the city."

COAL DISCOVERY.—The Napa Register says that Messrs. Sawyer and Mygatt, of Napa, have discovered a coal mine in Brown's Valley, about five miles from that place, which promises to be a valuable one.

Destructive Flood at the East—Great Loss of Life and Property.

RICHMOND, (Va.), October 1st.—The streets of Richmond are now flooded with water. The street cars have had to stop running, and the people are moving about in boats. The lower part of the city is entirely inundated. The Superintendent of the Gas Works has notified the citizens that they must depend upon candles for their light to-night, as the Gas Works are submerged. People neglect their business and line the banks of the stream watching to see bridges swept away. At a quarter of twelve about half of Mayes' bridge leading to Manchester was swept away, and the loss of the balance is momentarily expected. The water is now level with the floor of the Danville railroad bridge. The proprietor of the Tredegar Iron Works found that the canal was overflowing its banks, and fearing that the flood would overflow its barriers and sweep through their immense establishment, they had the floodgates above and below their establishment opened, and it was thought necessary to cut the canal, which was done. The train going south this morning by the Danville Railroad, went only two miles and was obliged to return, finding the water four feet deep on the track. During the excitement this morning the old Libby Prison, now used as a manufactory and flour mill, caught fire, but the flames were soon extinguished. The water rose rapidly all night, having risen about seven feet since six o'clock this morning. No such freshet has been known within the memory of any man now living.

At Rockett's Landing, where most of the steamers stop, there is great destruction of property. The wharf sheds of the James river steamers have been swept away, and fears are now entertained for the wharf where the New York steamers are unloaded. At 12:30, a barrel factory, over two hundred feet high, was carried off from its foundation by the torrent. We hear from Lynchburg of the loss of half a million dollars worth of property, and many lives are said to have been lost.

WASHINGTON, October 1st.—The lower portions of Washington are under water, and the wharves have been badly damaged. Five hundred feet of the long bridge has been carried away, and about the same length of the Alexandria railroad track has been torn up and swept away. Large portions of trestle work under the railroad bridge have been carried away. Chairs, tables, bedsteads, bureaus, and almost every kind of furniture has been caught along the bridge. The bodies of two colored infants passed down the creek in Pennsylvania avenue this afternoon. A beaureau was washed ashore near Georgetown, containing female clothing and some money.

It is estimated that $50,000 will not cover the damage in Georgetown. The canal is completely submerged and materially damaged; several locks have been carried away. Several wharves have been swept away, and large quantities of grain and guano. Two colored men have been drowned near Georgetown, and two men are reported lost on the Chain Bridge. A large number of sheep pasturing near the Chain Bridge have been swept away.

The water is now rapidly falling, having gone down four f et since four o'clock this afternoon. The weather is now clear.

The loss cannot be estimated as yet, but it is immense.

BALTIMORE, October 1st.—Another disastrous freshet has occurred on the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, almost equaling the flood of 1852 in destruction of life. Owing to the rapid rising of the water and the darkness, many families were unable to make their escape from their houses.

The water swept over the whole island opposite Loudon Hights, on the Shenandoah river, carrying everything before it, ten or fifteen feet deep. Only a few of the most substantial houses are left standing. The scene was heartrending. A number of houses with their inmates were washed into the river. The total number of lives lost is estimated at from thirty to forty. Ten bodies were recovered several miles down the stream, near Berlin.

All the railroad track and bridges between Harper's Ferry and Shenandoah City are washed away. Shenandoah City bridge comprised three spans of eighty feet each.

HAGERSTOWN, (Md.), October 1st,—Owing to the destruction of telegraph communication by the great flood, it is difficult to get anything definite as to the extent of the loss of life and property. The Baltimore and Ohio railroad succeeded in getting a wire repaired at 4 P. M., and their report confirms the statement of the loss of fifty persons and that many others were in a critical condition.

WASHINGTON, October 2d.—Further accounts come in of the ravages of the flood in the valley of Virginia and the Upper Potomac. The damage in the valley of the Shenandoah exceeds even that by the great floods of 1850. At Harper's Ferry, where the Shenandoah and Potomac unite, the sight was terrific in the extreme. The water rose there suddenly, and the loss of life and property is fearful to contemplate. The water from the Shenandoah rushing into the Potomac, produced a whirlpool at the juncture of the two rivers, which prevented the recovery of the unfortunates who had been swept off the banks of the Potomac. Parties were out from Harper's Ferry all day Saturday with apparatus, ropes, boats, etc., aiding in the rescue of those whose houses had been inundated both below and above the Ferry. The heaviest rains seem to have been in the valleys of Virginia, and the most of the water in the Potomac came from the Shenandoah river. All the bridges on the Shenandoah have been carried away and travel has been suspended.

On Friday, a train on the Manassas road coming toward Alexandria, had just crossed the bridge on the north fork of the Shenandoah river, when the bridge was carried away with a tremendous crash. When the train had reached the south fork of the river they found that the bridge had already been carried away, and the train was unable to either proceed or recede, but was held in the angle formed by the two forks.

The loss of life between this city and Harper's Ferry is unknown, but many families were carried off. At Harper's Ferry, one of the parties at work to aid those inundated, at the great risk of their lives, sent a boat to a large frame house on the river bank for the purpose of bringing off a family. The man, having an iron safe in the house containing his earnings for several years, refused to go without the safe being taken also. His wife made the same resolve, and the children had to abide by it too. The rescuing party were forced to leave by the water reaching the second floor of the house. Within an hour the river had risen far enough to lift the huge house from its foundation, and it floated for a distance of one hundred yards, when it suddenly turned completely over and went to pieces. The man, who was in the house at the time, together with his wife and children, were drowned.

THE COUNSELLORS OF STATE.—What effects do such journals as the Muletown Anthenaeum of Liberty and kindred sheets, have upon the crowned heads and the masses of Europe? It would be a little amusing if it were not a little more disgusting, to see a paper containing on its alternate pages matter unfit to be read even in a brothel, coolly set itself up as the exponent of either France or Prussia and gravely explaining for one crowned head and giving good advice to both. In our mind's eye we think we see King William, Bismarck, Napoleon, Victoria, Eugenie, and all the rest of the great monarchs and rulers of Europe, hurrying to get up early every morning so as to be each the first to devour eagerly the advice of the great American Press especially of such choice and statesman-like papers as are published in Oregon and Nevada, and such delightful sensational papers as produce for us weekly those beautiful and chaste pictures of nude women and bawdy scenes. Then see the incorruptable masses rushing to get their regular papers—for, you must know, all of those European lower orders take their papers just the same as our Digger Indians and the Hottentots do. These small-fry newspapers, magazines and journals, after belching thunder at Napoleon or King William, rest complacently, feeling that they have easily and elegantly given somebody a scourging that will electrify all Europe. The fact that they have no influence and are regarded with contempt in their own neighborhoods, seems never to occur to them. The ineffable conceit of these petty wiseacres reminds us of a very feeble little poodle-dog that barks himself blind at the moon and then imagines that he has annihilated the orb he can no longer see.

AGENTS WANTED EVERYWHERE!

To sell the most popular Work ever introduced to the American public. A work that an agent can engage in the sale of with a certainty of success, and a knowledge of the fact that by every book he has sold he has contributed a certain benefit to mankind—that he has done a good that may live after him—that he has added to human happiness and contributed to elevate the standard of social, physical and mental enjoyment.

We want good live agents—men who can fully appreciate the merits of the work, and the fact that it meets a universal want—agents who desire to do good as well as make money.

CHOLERA.

HOW TO CURE IT.

At the commencement of the Diarrhœa, which always precedes an attack of the Cholera, take a teaspoonful of the Pain Killer in sugar and water, (hot if convenient,) and then bathe freely the stomach and bowels with the Pain Killer; clear. Should the diarrhœa or cramps continue, repeat the dose every ten or fifteen minutes until the patient is relieved. In extreme cases, two or more teaspoonfuls may be given at a dose.

The Pain Killer, as an internal remedy has no equal. In cases of Cholera, Summer Complaints, Dyspepsia, Dysentery, Asthma, it cures in one night by taking it internally, and bathing with it freely. Its action is like magic, when externally applied to Old Sores, Burns, Scalds, and Sprains. For Sick Headache, and Toothache, don't fail to try it. In short, it is a PAIN KILLER.

Directions accompany each bottle.

The Pain Killer is sold by all dealers in Medicines.

Prices, 25 cents, 50 cents and $1 per bottle.

Town and County Matters.

THE STATE MEETING.—The Disciples of the Christian Church of California, as previously announced, have been holding meetings during the whole of this week about a mile and a half north of Woodland, which have been very numerously attended. Last Sunday it was estimated there were about 4,000 persons present, and everything goes along pleasantly and satisfactorily. Besides our own ministers, there are a number of others present who share in the labors of the occasion. Notwithstanding the liberal provision made beforehand there has been some lack of tent-room, but we learn that all are provided for now by the efficient Committee in charge of the arrangements. The five public tables, each nearly or quite 100 feet long, are well supplied with provisions, which, except the bread, are cooked on the grounds. And of course they are well patronized where there is so large an assemblage. The restaurant and fruit stands also do a good trade, while the barber shop does a thriving business. The busses and carriages, to and from town are reaping a rich harvest by carrying passengers to and fro, and Woodland has presented a lively, city-like appearance during the week. Doubtless our merchants have found quite a difference in the amount of their sales. A special excursion train will be up from Vallejo on Sunday next, starting at 8½ A. M., which will bring a large number to swell the throng of worshippers. The meeting will continue till Monday next, when the ten days which it was intended to continue will expire.

SCIENTIFIC.—A learned anatomist inquires, with fearful gravity, what is to become of our growing young ladies now humping themselves with the Grecian Bend, when the fashions change so that they must necessarily change the hump-back for the sway-back style. He avers that all our girls from twelve to twenty-six years old will be unable to make the change, as it will be at least five years before the fashions roll around to the style of allowing the spine to get well of the disease now being inflicted upon it and to resume the curves nature intended. Our "question and answer man" says, let the girls have their own way and keep in a good humor—especially as they are all too young for us, and let us leave them to the criticism and admiration of the boys who wear on their number nine feet number five soles, with heels four inches high. Thus far the brave boys are keeping even with the girls, for when the girls took to convexing their backbones and wearing dead people's hair topped with a bonnet the size of a half-dollar, our boys pitched-in with skull hats, bob-tailed coats, tight kneed pants and heels upon which they hobble and teeter like so many drunken cripples on stilts. It is perhaps true that in a few years, when these young people reach maturity, it may be necessary for the helpless girls to go lecturing on Woman's Rights and get their mamas to teach poor young boys the millinery business, family washing, and other kindred pursuits. Let them have a chance.

I. O. O. F. DEDICATION BALL.—On Friday next the new Odd Fellows' Hall will be dedicated at two o'clock in the afternoon, and a grand ball will be given in Washington Hall in the evening. Arrangements have been completed to insure a grand affair. Washington Hall is not excelled in the State as a ball room, being large enough to accommodate one hundred couples on the floor at one time. It is well ventilated and conveniently arranged. The Order of course will be numerously represented from the cities and towns of the State, and we hear that the public will generally respond to the invitation extended and participate in the enjoyment of the occasion. Through the co-operation of the Odd Fellows with other parties in building their new hall, we have one of the finest buildings in the State, and we doubt not that on the occasion of the ball the dancing community will show their appreciation of the public spirit displayed by the Order in the erection of so fine a building. The programme, etc., appears in another column. We have learned since the above was in type, that Vallejo, Dixon and Davisville Lodges will be here entire.

GAS FOR WOODLAND.—Mr. Mathew Doughty of Vallejo, who has had large experience in erecting and establishing gas work at various points, has been prospecting Woodland during the week, with a view to giving our town the benefit of gas light. Mr. Doughty informs us that he has met with liberal encouragement in the way of promised patronage, if works should be erected, and exhibited quite a lengthy array of names, embracing all our business men and many others, who had signed a paper promising to take gas if furnished at a fair price. This is one of the modern improvements of every flourishing town like Woodland, and we hope the projector will meet with the necessary aid in the way of capital to enable him to go ahead and erect the works. He is entirely satisfied it would pay a good interest on the investment, and that being the case there ought to be sufficient capital forthcoming to start the undertaking right along. We learn that some of our heavy men talked very favorably, and trust all will give the matter due consideration.

UNREASONABLE.—Many of our old settlers, who came to this county during the flush times, find it very difficult to come down to the style and prices of the present day, when a five dollar piece is about as valuable as a twenty was in those golden days. We offer no lecture on the subject, but merely suggest, that whenever you see one of these slow Rip Van Winkles, you generally find him in bad condition, financially, and more or less unhealthy and unhappy. These people should remember that there is even yet time to arouse and go into the race for a fortune again, or there still remain many comfortable fortunes, and not a few splendid ones, for those who will make resolutely the attempt to win them.

NEW MAIL ARRANGEMENTS.—According to the Marysville Standard, hereafter "the Route Agent on the Vallejo road will go down on the morning train, instead of the afternoon train as heretofore, and all way mail will go on that train." This will be much better for the way stations than the late arrangement, and we think will give more general satisfaction. Heretofore the mail for San Francisco or Sacramento has left Woodland at 3 P. M.; under the new arrangement it will leave here at 7 A. M. Our Postmaster has not been notified.

ANOTHER GREAT CONVENIENCE.—Our enterprising townsman, G. E. Sill, Esq., is putting in one of Fairbanks' large platform scales, capable of weighing twelve tons at a time, and large enough for the largest wagon, or small droves of cattle, sheep, hogs, etc. The location of the scales is on First, between Main and Court streets. It will be found a convenience to our farmers, drovers and business men.

AS IT SHOULD BE.—One Karr, at Marysville, has recovered a verdict for damages of $3,260 against Wm. H. Parks, for injuries to his daughter, caused by a vicious cow of defendant's. There are animals hereabout that ought not to be allowed to run at large, but as the town is not incorporated children as well as adults must run the risk of being gored by vicious animals.

CHURCH DEDICATION.—We inadvertently omitted to mention last week the dedication at Knight's Landing, of the new church building of the Methodist Church South, which took place on the previous Sabbath. It is an imposing and very creditable edifice, and does honor to the liberality and enterprise of that organization and to the community.

ADMITTED TO CITIZENSHIP.—Selig Hyman was admitted to citizenship by the District Court of the Sixth Judicial District, on the 20th of September ult.

SISTERLY DEVOTION.—All who reside in this vicinity are aware of the lingering illness through which the late Mrs. Woods passed previous to her death, which, following so soon after the death of her husband, the late Judge Woods of this county, and that of their little son Charley, makes it seem all the more melancholy. The Masonic Mirror, published in San Francisco, refers to the kind devotion of Mrs. Shaw, of that city, sister of Mrs. Woods, during that long illness, as follows:

"Mrs. Woods was the sister of the wife of Bro. E. H. Shaw, of this city. Mrs. Shaw has made an average of no less than two trips per week to Woodland for nearly a year and a half, or not less than 14,000 miles actual travel in order to give her own personal attention to the wants of her sister, and at the same time presiding over her own household duties at home. Such constant devotion and unfailing tenderness and sympathy for a suffering sister we have never before seen exhibited. These sorrowful semi-weekly journeys in summer and winter, with death standing expectant at the door, waiting for his victim, has been enough to weary the stoutest heart; and, surely, the bereaved sister has the sympathy of all her friends in this sad hour when the last link of the chain which bound her to the old home and family hearthstone has been broken. May He who tempers the wind to the shorn lamb take the Orphans under His protecting wing, and guard them safely through this thorny pathway of earth."

BOARD OF SUPERVISORS.—Board met pursuant to adjournment on Monday, October 3d. Present, Supervisors Roberts and Swingle and E. Bynum, Clerk.

Edward Roberts, Supervisor elect from the Third District, took the oath of office and reentered upon its duties.

In the absence, on account of sickness, of Supervisor Ruggles, now President of the Board, Supervisor Swingle temporarily occupied the chair.

In the matter of Howard and Stephens road to Putah Creek—report of Surveyor Doniphan and viewers John Price and F. G. Russel ordered on file, and further hearing continued till November term.

In consideration of the statistics furnished by the Assessor, J. J. Ammons, to the State Board of Equalization, it was ordered that the Auditor issue warrant on the General Fund in payment of such services for $200.

Matter of grading road on land of J. D. and G. D. Stephens, Cottonwood District—ordered that notice to contractors be published (see notice elsewhere), and that Surveyor Underhill proceed to make an estimate of the amount of work to be done.

On petition of E. L. Clark, Ed. S. Perkins and 75 others, Robert McKinney was appointed Road Master of West Cottonwood Road District, to fill the vacancy occasioned by the resignation of E. L. Clark.

Board adjourned.

COUNTY COURT.—Court met on Monday, October 3d; Hon. James Johnson presiding. Following are the cases called up and their disposition:

A. W. Burns vs. Cal. P. R. R. Co.—On motion of plaintiff, set for trial October 12th at 10 o'clock.

John McLain vs. Cal. P. R. R. Co.—On motion of plaintiff, set for trial on 12th instant, at 1 o'clock.

People vs. Thos. H. Hamlin alias John Morgan—Trial set for Tuesday, October 11th.

Sheriff ordered to summon a trial jury to try causes on Tuesday, October 11th, at one o'clock.

Fleishman & Kaufman vs. F. S. Freeman—Ordered for trial on Thursday, 13th inst., at 10 o'clock.

James Donjphan vs. A. C. Kean—Trial set for 13th inst., at 1 P. M.

Court adjourned till October 11th, at 1 P. M.

"ULSTER COUNTY GAZETTE."—Milton Dale, Esq., obtained on his late visit East, and has left with us, a copy of the above named paper, printed January 4th, A. D. 1800, at Kingston, Ulster Co., Virginia, by Samuel Freer & Son. It is dressed in deep mourning for the death of George Washington. In our next we intend to give some interesting extracts.

TRAIN ON FIRE.—The train of cars which passed through Woodland going north at one o'clock yesterday, had seven cars loaded with hay. Before reaching Knight's Landing the hay took fire, probably from the sparks of the locomotive, and the fire had communicated to all seven of the cars at last accounts, with no means of extinguishing it.

RUNAWAY.—On Tuesday last a four-horse team attached to a heavy wagon went tearing down First street at the top of their speed, and on turning the corner to exhibit themselves on Main street the wagon tipped over and brought the horses to a sudden standstill without doing any very serious damage.

NUMBERED.—J. W. Bost, Register, has informed the Recorder of Yolo County that the Swamp Land Reclamation District, the petition for the formation of which was recently granted by the Board of Supervisors, is numbered one hundred and eight, and is so recorded.

RACES AT KNIGHT'S LANDING.—Races are advertised to come off at the Landing Course on the 3d, 4th and 5th days of November, for purses ranging from $50 to $100—in all several hundred dollars. A good deal of sport is anticipated by horsemen and others on the occasion of these races.

UNITED ANCIENT ORDER OF DRUIDS.—Dodona Grove No. 18, of Woodland, which has been instituted only a little over two months, now numbers some sixty members, among them quite a number of our leading and most influential citizens.

OVERLAND HOUSE.—This well-known hotel has again passed into the hands of Dr. Hunter, its owner, under whose management it will be hereafter conducted, aided by the old and popular clerk A. Moger, Esq.

POSTPONED.—The erection of the flouring mill which has been contemplated for some time, at Putah Canyon, says an exchange, has been postponed until next Spring.

REMOVAL.—Drs. Peirson & Jackson are fitting up an office in the Odd Fellow's building and will move into it in a day or two.

WHEAT MARKET.—Yesterday the market for wheat in this place was firm at $1 60 for choice, and the demand active.

☞ A profuse and many times excessively offensive discharge from the nose, with "stopping up" of the nose at times, impairment of the sense of smell and taste, watering or weak eyes, impaired hearing, irregular appetite, occasional nausea, pressure and pain over the eyes, and at times in the back of the head, occasional chilly sensations, cold feet, and a feeling of lassitude and debility are symptoms which are comon to Catarrh, yet all of them are not present in every case. Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy cures Catarrh in its worst form and stages. It is pleasant to use and contains no poisonous or caustic drugs. Sent by mail on receipt of sixty cents. Address R. V. Pierce, M. D., Buffalo, N. Y. A pamphlet sent free. Sold by druggists.

THE QUESTION SETTLED.—Those eminent men, Dr. Jas. Clark, Physician to Queen Victoria, and Dr. Hughes Bennett, say that consumption can be cured. Dr. Wister knew this when he discovered his Balsam of Wild Cherry, and experience has proved the correctness of his opinion.

MARRIED.

At the residence of the bride's father, October 7th, by Rev. R. W. Williamson, Albert A. Merritt to Hattie J. Bullard, all of this county.

Changes in the Revenue Law.

The changes in the Internal Reuenue Law took effect October 1st. The following taxes heretofore collected, will be omitted hereafter:

1. On Carriages of every description, $6 to $10 each. 2. On watches, $1 to $2 each. 3. On billiard tables, $10 each. 4. On silver plate of all kinds, 5 cents per pound. 5. On gold plate, 50 cents per pound. 6. On passports, $5 each. 7. On boats, barges and flats, $5 and $10 each. 8. On gross receipts, including those of railroads, steamboats, canal-boats, and all other vessels and stages, 1½ per cent of receipts. 9. On gross receipts of telegraph companies, ferries, bridges and turnpikes, 3 per cent of receipts. 10. On retail dealers (license tax), $10 each. 11. On wholesale dealers, or those whose sales exceed $25,000 a year, $10 each, and $1 additional on every $1,000 of sales exceeding $50,000. These taxes on sales are all repealed, except those as regards liquors and tobacco. 12. On banks and bankers, with capital of $50,000, $100 each, and $2 additional on every $1,000 of capital above $50,000. 13. On brokers (license,) $50 each. 14. Hotelkeepers, (license,) $10 to $300 each. 15. Auctioneers and peddlers, (license,) $10 to $50 each. 16. Claim agents, insurance agents, real estate agents, patent-right dealers and conveyancers, $10 each. 17. Manufacturers (license) $10 each. 18. Proprietors of theaters, museums, circuses and concert-halls, $100 each. 19. Proprietors of gift enterprises, $150 each. 20. Lawyers, Physicians, architects and builders, $10 each. 21. Coffee and spice grinders, $100 each. 22. Express carriers and agents, $10 each. 23. Miners, assayers, plumbers, photographers, apothecaries, butchers, and eating-house keepers, $10 each. All others now chargeable with license tax of any kind, except dealers in spirits and tobacco, are exempted. 24. On canned and preserved fish (now paid by stamps), 1 cent per pound. 25. On bills and receipts, to any amount, and on promisory notes for a less sum than $100 (now paid by stamps), 2 cents and 5 cents each. All other stamp taxes are continued in force. 26. On legacies and successions, $1 to $6 on every $100 of property devised or inherited, according to the degree of relationship. All repealed.

All incomes, not exceeding $2,000 are exempt from tax. Incomes exceeding this amount pay 2½ per cent, for the years commencing January 1st, 1870: and January 1st, 1871. The exemptions, in addition to the $2,000 named are, all taxes, interests, losses, bad debts, rents, repairs on dwelling houses, amounts paid for cultivation of land or for the management of any business from which income is derived. Under this rule very few persons having a gross income not exceeding $3,000, will be required to pay any tax.

The tax on the dividends of all banking and other corporations for the year 1871, will be 2½ per cent. These reductions, though not all the people desired, are very important; and are given by way of memoranda.—Bulletin.

THE NEW OREGON SENATOR.—While many of the small-fry Republican papers of California are doing their utmost to impeach the character of Mr. Kelley, the recently elected Democratic United States Senator, by the Legislature of Oregon, to succeed Senator Williams from that State, the Sacramento Union, whose statements will probably outweigh those of all the yelping pack of villifiers alluded to, pays the following deserved compliment to Mr. Kelly, who is known by many in this State to be an honorable man, whose character is above reproach. Here is what the Union says of him:

"Kelly, the Senator recently elected by the Oregon Legislature, is a Pennsylvanian, born in Mifflin county, or at least educated there. He is a lawyer by profession and practice. At one time he was a miner at Murphy's, Calaveras county, in this State, and at a very early day was one of a company to build the first steamer ever built in California. It exploded on its trial trip or at the wharf just before starting, and the explosion carried away Kelly's small fortune with the other parts of the wreck and left him in debt. These debts he afterwards paid with scrupulous honor from the proceeds of his law business in Oregon, where he went in 1851. Those who knew him well are loth to believe the reports which accuse him of a dishonorable bargain with the Oregon railroad King, and represent him as a man of the utmost probity and sincerity. He is a Democrat, but it is probably one of the least of the sins of the Democracy of Oregon that they have made him a United States Senator, at a time when corruption is the master evil at Washington. We have no evidence that he is a man of much intellectual scope, but if he gives as few proofs of political Bourbonism as he has given of personal dishonesty, he can't make a very bad Senator."

PETERS' MUSICAL MONTHLY.—We have received this excellent Musical Magazine for October. It contains the following choice collection of music, printed from full-size music plates: Truly Yours—Song and chorus by Hays. Papa, come help Me across the Dark River—Song and chorus by Persley. The World is full of Beauty, when the heart is full of Love—Song by Von Smit. Eyes of Loving, Laughing Blue—Song and chorus by Philip Phillips. We won't leave the Farm—Song and chorus by Persley. Cast thy Burden upon the Lord—Quartet. Jesus and the Children—Quartet. Speak the Truth—Quartet. Halte Militaire, or Camp Polka. Falling Leaves Polka. Christine Nilsson's favorite Schottische—and Floating Breezes Valse Sentimental. This Magazine is invaluable to all lovers of music, any single piece of the above being worth as much as is asked for the entire lot. It is published monthly by J. L. Peters, 599 Broadway, New York, at $3 per year. Sample copies mailed on receipt of thirty cents. This is the best chance we know of to obtain first-class music at a very low price.

BIG BRICKS.—A dispatch from Denver, Sept. 28th, says: Georgetown sends a silver brick to the Territorial Fair, the largest ever taken out in the United States. It was taken from thirty-three tons of ore from Brown & Co's mines, averaging $545 50 (currency) per ton. Other silver and gold bullion will make a display in this respect unprecedently fine. The First National Bank of this city exhibits the largest gold bar ever run in the world. It measures 12½ inches in length, 6½ inches in width, 4½ inches high and weighs 2,348 75-100 (?); fineness, gold, .792; silver, .193; value, $50,000.

Believing that every man should be held personally responsible for whatever he offers to the public as an antidote for any existing evil, and that no honest man can, for the sake of gain, offer as a remedy that which may prove an injury, we shall say no more than we believe to be strictly true, and easily proved, in relation to the merits of

Newell's Pulmonary Syrup!

We have known it for many years as a valuable remedy in all Pulmonary Complaints. It has been given to a great number of persons, old and young, male and female, and it can be truly said that rarely, if ever, was known a single instance in which it has not effected a speedy cure of the most violent cold or long-seated cough; and, in case of Asthma, whooping-cough, sore throat, or any affection of the throat or lungs, we have yet to hear of the first instance in which it has not afforded entire satisfaction. We do not pretend to say that

Newell's Pulmonary Syrup

Is a remedy for "all the ills that flesh is heir to," but we do say that, in ninety-nine cases out of a hundred, it has been found to be a safe, pleasant, and sovereign remedy for the most violent cold, long-neglected cough, sore throat, asthma, whooping-cough, or any affection of the throat or lungs arisng, as almost all such complaints do, from what is at first considered nothing but a "slight cold"—the final consequences of which need not be pointed out. Prominent, however, among the ills thus engendered, is that of Consumption, for which it is said there is no remedy, and perhaps there is not. But if

Newell's Pulmonary Syrup,

Which we so strongly recommend, be a remedy for such complaints as we have enumerated, what effect will it have upon that scourge of the human race, CONSUMPTION? We answer, it will be to afford its victims immediate relief: it will check the ever-accompanying cough; this done, refreshing sleep is sure to follow, and, in its train, increase of strength, a brighter eye, a more cheerful countenance—and, why not a restoration to health? CURE YOUR COLD while it is yet what you consider but a slight one, and you will have less occasion to seek a remedy for any of the countless ills so sure to follow from it when too long neglected. Cure it in your children, instead of allowing them to retire to their beds night after night with a SLIGHT COLD, from which almost every family has had sad experience; they too often rise with headache, sore throat, or fever.

A kind Providence has placed at the disposal of His intelligent creatures, all the remedies requisite for the relief of such diseases as He permits to afflict mankind. Among the gravest in this category are those of the CHEST and LUNGS. A thorough and patient investigation into the character and treatment of these affections, has resulted in the selection and approval, by the more intelligent of the present day, of

Newell's Pulmonary Syrup,

The use of which is synonymous with speedy relief and health. Consumptives, try it! For sale by all Druggists.

Newell's Pulmonary Syrup,

Should be resorted to on the slightest indication of a cough, cold or asthma.

STATION.

The heart's ease, in its lowly bed,
May lift its head
Beside the queenly rose;
The meanest shrub in forest wide
Stand safe beside
The proudest oak that grows.

The river does not spurn the rill
That helps to fill
And make it broader grow;
And mountains may look grandly down,
And yet not frown
On modest vales below.

Thus, in the social scale of man,
It is God's plan
To have both great and small;
And on the earth's broad, smiling face
He gives a place,
And life and light for all.

But we, blind mortals that we are,
Off seek to mar
This plan so good and wise;
The lowly sometimes sigh, and try
To reach the high,
When they've no power to rise.

The high look on the lowly born
With pride and scorn;
Though oh it has been shown
That there are men of low estate
More truly great
Than some who fill a throne.

Now, I believe—though some may not—
Since each has got
The germ his master gives,
That he may reach the oak at length,
In hight and strength,
If oak seed in him lives.

THE prayer which Socrates taught his disciple Alcibiades deserves a place in the daily devotions of every Christian. "That he should beseech the supreme God to give him what was good for him though he should not ask it, and to with-hold from him whatever would be hurtful, though he should be so foolish as to pray for it."

OF all the sovereigns in Europe, the Czar has the largest income. The crown domain of Russia is said to have reached the extraordinary extent of 1,900,000 square miles—that is to say, about half of European Russia consists of land over which the crown possesses manorial rights of one kind or another. It is not surprising that a lord of the manor on this scale should be in receipt of a net revenue of £2,000,000, or more than five times the amount of the civil list of Queen Victoria.

PHILLIP ROACH, of San Francisco, and one of the proprietors of the Daily Examiner, a few days ago presented to the lady President of the French Sanitary Fair, a cane made from the wood of the old ship Cadmus, the vessel on board of which Lafayette came to America. At the Fair the beautiful cane, around which clusters the memories and associations of the past, was bid off by L. A. Pioche, a patriotic Frenchman, and a descendant of the illustrious Lafayette, for $350.

AT a late meeting of the British Medical Association, at Newcastle, a paper was read by Dr. John Murray, showing that the use of Tobacco is really beneficial and a curative for more than one disease. He stated that a habitual smoker seldom or never died of consumption, and that the progress of that disease is frequently arrested by taking snuff. The latter, he maintained, is not only of great use in curing catarrh, but is an admirable expedient in preventing it. In cases of bronchitis, liberal pinches of snuff are strongly recommended.

"Did you say the pig would be there, yer riverence?" "To be sure I did." "Well, then, yer riverence, I'll say, 'Mrs. Malony, there's yer pig!'"

WOMAN.

Females, owing to the peculiar and important relations which they sustain, their peculiar organization, and the offices they perform, are subject to many sufferings. Freedom from these contributes in no small degree to their happiness and welfare, for none can be happy who are ill. Not only so, but no one of these various female complaints can long be suffered to run on without involving the general health of the individual, and ere long producing permanent sickness and premature decline. Nor is it pleasant to consult a physician for the relief of these various delicate affections, and only upon the most urgent necessity will a true woman so sacrifice her greatest charm as to do this. The sex will then thank us for placing in their hands simple specifics which will be found efficacious in relieving and curing almost every one of those troublesome complaints peculiar to the sex.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT OF BUCHU.—Hundreds suffer on in silence, and hundreds of others apply vainly to druggists and doctors, who either merely tantalize them with the hope of a cure or apply remedies which make them worse. I would not wish to insert anything that would do injustice to the afflicted, but I am obliged to say that although it may be produced from excessive exhaustion of the powers of life, by laborious employment, unwholesome air or food, profuse menstration the use of tea and coffee, and frequent childbirth, it is far oftener caused by direct irritation applied to the vagina itself.

When reviewing the causes of these distressing complaints, it is most painful to contemplate the attendant evils consequent upon them. It is but simple justice to the subject to enumerate a few of the many additional causes which so largely affect the life, health, and happiness of woman in all classes of society, and which, consequently, affect more or less directly the welfare of the entire human family. The mania that exists for precocious education and marriage, causes the years that nature designed for corporeal development to be wasted and perverted in the restraints of dress, the early confinement of school, and especially in the unhealthy excitement of the ball-room. Thus, with the body half clothed and the mind unduly exercised by pleasure, perverting in midnight revel the hours designed by nature for sleep and rest, the work of destruction is half accomplished

In consequence of this early strain upon her system, unnecessary effort is required by the delicate votary to retain her situation in school at a later day, thus aggravating the evil. When one excitement is over, another in prospective keeps the mind morbidly sensitive to impression, while the now constant restraint of fashionable dress, absolutely forbidding the exercise indispensable to the attainment and retention of organic health and strength; the exposure to night air; the sudden change of temperature; the complete prostration produced by excessive dancing, must of necessity produce their legitimate effect. At last, an early marriage caps the climax of misery, and the unfortunate one, hitherto utterly regardless of the plain dictates and remonstrances of her delicate nature, becomes an unwilling subject of medical treatment. This is but a truthful picture of the experience of thousands of our young women.

Long before the ability to exercise the functions of the generative organs, they require an education of their peculiar nervous system, composed of what is called the tissue, which is, in common with the female breast and lips, evidently under the control of mental emotions and associations at an early period of life; and as we shall subsequently see, these emotions, when excessive, lead, long before puberty, to habits which sap the very life of their victims ere nature has self-completed their development.

For female weakness and debility, whites or leucorrhea, too profuse menstruation, exhaustion, too long continued periods, for prolapsus and bearing down, or prolapsus uteri, we offer the most perfect specific known—HELMBOLD'S COMPOUND EXTRACT OF BUCHU. Directions for use, diet, and advice accompany.

Females in every period of life, from infancy to extreme old age, will find it a remedy to aid nature in the discharge of its functions. Strength is the glory of manhood and womanhood. HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU is more strengthening than any of the preparations of Bark or Iron, infinitely safer and more pleasant. HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU, having received the indorsement of the most prominent Physicians in the United States, is now offered to afflicted humanity as a certain cure for the following diseases and symptoms, from whatever cause originating: General Debility, Mental and Physical Depression, Imbecility, Determination of Blood to the Head, Confused Ideas, Hysteria, General Irritability, Restlessness and Sleeplessness at night. Absence of Muscular Efficiency. Loss of Appetite. Dyspepsia, Emaciation, Low Spirits, Disorganization or Paralysis of the Organs of Generation, Palpitation of the Heart, and, in fact, all the concomitants of a Nervous and Debilitated state of the system. To insure the genuine, cut this out. Ask for HELMBOLD'S. Take no other. Sold by Druggists and Dealers everywhere. Price $1 25 per bottle, or six bottles for $6 50, Delivered to any address. Describe syptoms in all communications. Address H. T. HELMBOLD., Drug and Chemical Warehouse, 594 Broadway, N. Y.

WOOLSEY'S CELEBRATED

Universal Washer.

In introducing Woolsey's Celebrated UNIVERSAL WASHER, I desire to say that it has been used in the Atlantic States with greater success than any other machine ever introduced, and I challenge any and all others to a test of quality. It takes less wood and water, less soap and labor, (the water is heated by a stove attached), a child ten years old can operate it, and it does not wear out clothes as other machines, as it neither rubs nor pounds the clothes. It will wash the finest fabrics and the largest quilt or blanket. If it fails in anything I claim for it, the money will be refunded if desired.

NEW WEED
SEWING MACHINES!

"The Last and Best!"

The following is the fac-simile of the Medal awarded to the WEED Sewing Machines at the late Paris Exposition:

The Weed Sewing Machine Company have now at last completed their Three Standard styles of Weed Sewing Machines.

First—Their new "Family Favorite." Second—Their new, light and noiseless Manufacturers' Sewing Machine. Thirdly—Their immense heavy "Manufacturers' Favorite." The three together combining the advantages of all others up to the present time, being the BEST made and doing the best work—has received throughout Europe, the States, and on this coast, the First and Highest Premium at each and every public Fair since 1867 (the year it was completed,) where any premium at all has been given or where its strong points have been really exhibited.

There is a difference!—All the Premiums that the WEED Sewing Machine Company claim, from the first and Highest Premium at the Great World's Fair at Paris, in 1867, up to the present time, (see small circulars), are each and every one genuine awards, or we will forfeit $500 for each and every false claim! Other Sewing Machines have had their Premiums, but how many of them in the last two years?

There is a difference! Says the True Chronicle: "This magnificent Sewing Machine comes forward in good time and strikes exactly the right mark." Also, the editor of the Independent says: "Such a Sewing Machine as the Weed—the New F. F.—we have never seen." Thus the New Weed Sewing Machine is the simplest and strongest, the last, and as we believe in modern improvement we may add the BEST Sewing Machine made as yet. It is the best Family Sewing Machine; it is the best Boot, Tailor, Saddler's Sewing Machine; it is the most successful Sewing Machine! for already its name is a household word both in Europe and America, and is rapidly taking the place of all others. Its immense central manufactory is in Hartford, Connecticut. Agents in all the principal cities in the world.

Price, from $65 to $500.

Grover & Baker's
ELASTIC STITCH
FAMILY
SEWING MACHINES
Excel all others.

They are more simple and durable, easier kept in order, make a stronger and more elastic stitch, a firmer and more beautiful seam than any other. They sew all fabrics from two common spools, require no rewinding of thread, fasten both ends of the seam by their own operation, and though every fifth stitch is cut the seam will not rip.

They Stitch, Hem, Fell, Cord, Bind, Tuck, Quilt, Gather, Braid, Embroider, Ruffle, Puff, and excel in Every Class of Machine Work.

Grover & Baker's
Improved Shuttle Stitch
SEWING MACHINES,
For Manufacturing,
Are the Latest and Best.

We request the attention of Tailors, Manufacturers of Boots and Shoes, Carriage Trimmings, Clothing, and all others requiring the use of the most effective Lock Stitch Machines, to these New Styles which possess unmistakable advantages over all others.

The Continued Triumph
OF THE
"Grover & Baker,"
is the best evidence of their merit. Over 13,000 are in successful operation on the Pacific Coast and their sales yearly increase against most determined competition.

This remedy does not simply relieve for a short time, but it produces perfect and permanent cures of the worst cases of Chronic Nasal Catarrh, and I will pay $500 reward for a case that I cannot cure. "Cold in the head" and Catarrhal Headache are cured with a few applications. If you have a discharge from the nose, offensive or otherwise, stopping up of the nose at times, partial loss of the sense of smell, taste or hearing, eyes watering or weak, feel dull, have pain or pressure in the head, you may rest assured that you have Catarrh. Thousands annually, without manifesting half of the above symptoms, terminate in Consumption and end in the grave. No disease is so common, more deceptive or less understood by physicians. I will send my pamphlet on Catarrh to any address free. Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy is now

SOLD BY MOST DRUGGISTS IN ALL PARTS OF THE WORLD.

Price fifty cents. Sent by mail, postpaid, on receipt of sixty cents, or four packages for two dollars. Beware of counterfeits and worthless imitations. See that my private Stamp, which is a positive guarantee of genuineness, is upon the outside wrapper. Remember that this private stamp, issued by the United States Government expressly for stamping my medicines, has my portrait, name and address, and the words "U. S. Certificate of Genuineness" engraved upon it, and not be mistaken. Don't be swindled by travelers and others representing themselves as Dr. Sage; I am the only man now living that has the knowledge and right to manufacture the genuine Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy, and I never travel to sell this medicine.

After paying the expenses of the entertainment, and making the distribution of the Gifts, as above announced, the balance will be applied to extinguishing the present indebtedness of the Mercantile Library Association.

Holders of tickets to which gifts may be awarded, will receive the same on presentation of such tickets or coupons to the Business Agents of the Board of Trustees at their office, No. 218 California Street, San Francisco.

NOTICE.

HOLDERS OF TICKETS to the GIFT CONCERT in aid of the Mercantile Library Association are hereby notified that the Concert is postponed until Monday, October 31st, 1870.

Unexpected interferences have operated to make this delay necessary to accomplish the result of freeing the Library from debt, without recourse to other privileges granted by act of the Legislature, passed February 19, 1870.

This is positively the only postponement which will be made. The Concert will take place on the day above named, commencing at 9 o'clock A. M., and to continue until all the gifts have been awarded.

The funds already in bank are considerably more than sufficient to insure the successful completion of the contract with the public.

The sale of tickets will positively close on Friday, the 28th day of October, 1870.

All tickets remaining unsold at that time will be withdrawn from sale and cancelled. They will be advertised by their numbers on the 29th day of October, 1870, in one or more of the daily papers of this city. Any diminution thus made in the number of tickets to be drawn will not affect the number or amount of gifts. They will be as heretofore advertised, to wit: 628 gifts, amounting in all to $500,000 gold.

Ticket-holders residing out of San Francisco will receive duly accredited lists of the awards of Gifts, which will also be published in the leading San Francisco daily papers, on the 1st of November, 1870.

Delivery of gifts will commence November 2d, 1870, at the Office, No. 318 California street, to all parties presenting tickets to which Gifts have been awarded. All gifts awarded to non-residents will be held to their order and for their account.

THE HOWE MACHINE CO.'S

WORLD RENOWNED

SEWING MACHINES!

Paris Exposition Universelle, 1867,

TWO GRAND PRIZES,

Grand Cross of the Legion of Honor,

To ELIAS HOWE, JR., as the Inventor; and Gold Medal for the best Sewing Machine!

The Highest Honors Ever Conferred for Sewing Machines.

This Machine has long been regarded as the standard of excellence, and has become celebrated the world over. The work done by these Machines is unsurpassed—sewing the thinnest muslin or the thickest cloth, with equal facility; and requiring no extra adjusting for uneven thickness or passing over seams: it turns its own hem as it sews, sewing a seam stronger than the fabric itself. To see it hem, fell, tuck, braid, cord, quilt and gather, it seems more like a thing of life than a machine moved by the will of the operator. It is capable of doing every description of sewing that is required in a family; and also for seamstresses and dressmakers it will be found invaluable. They seldom, or never give any trouble in operating, and in a word, are the most satisfactory Sewing Machines in use.

Notwithstanding their great superiority, they are sold at prices as low as other first-class machines.

A Medallion likeness of Mr. Howe is embedded in the plates of every Howe Machine, without which none are genuine. Every purchaser of a Sewing Machine should inquire for ELIAS HOWE, JR.'S SEWING MACHINE, and if they are not sold in their vicinity, address the General Agency for Illustrated Circulars, etc., and do not purchase until you have thoroughly investigated these renowned machines.
